

Discourse 39

Greetings, students. We have brought for our lesson at this time a continuation of the understanding of the human anatomy. Now you have been given several meanings to the various parts of the body and at this time we will continue with this discussion.

You know that the hands represent action, the elbows—conscience, the neck—will, the shoulders—courage, the reproductive organs—desire, in the solar plexus—illumination. Now the color of what is termed the pineal gland, that spot between the eyebrows, is colored yellow, the right shoulder—red, the left shoulder—blue. I know that you understand that the feet are colored purple.

Be patient in your study and investigation. You are coming along well, but do not be tempted to put the cart before the horse. As we have mentioned before, we gratefully give to the limit of the law at any given time. The pattern will be complete before you leave your earthly shell, as complete as is possible to your understanding. Therefore we ask your patience, your continuity of investigation. We are pleased with the efforts that are being made and we are ever willing to share the Light with those who are striving to share it.

Remember that the Light has greater value in the night and this is where our prayers and aspirations ever go—to those in the dungeons and pits, to those blindly stumbling along the paths. For those are the ones, my children, who have the greater need.

We have spoken before on spiritual arrogance and we mention it once again. Balance in all things, balance in your endeavors.

The lips represent aspiration. Think, my children. Continue to study, continue to think. The Light is dawning ever greater in your universe.

If the teachings were too simple they would not hold the attention and therefore those in the darkness would not be benefited. You understand the truth is simple but it needs many coverings that it may attract those who are so immersed in mind, in brain, that we may through whatever method legal bring them to the light of eternal truth.

You are ever testing yourselves and ever tempted to leave the Light; and the greater your soul expansion, the greater the temptation from the worlds of creation. There is but one responsibility and that is the responsibility to the Light; for that is that only thing that is eternal and the only thing that merits responsibility to it. Be not deceived by the creations of mind.

There is a light within all souls that knows its divine heritage. Be true to the Light and the Light shall ever light your pathways.

Now you may ask, "Why are the elbows conscience. Why is this and why is that?" I am happy to serve whenever the opportunity presents itself and therefore think, my children. Think. Think. What is the very part of the anatomy that moves, directs action? It is the conscience that knows right from wrong and does not have to be told. I know as you continue with your studies you will perceive more and more.

It is true that each organ and part of the body is represented and each part emanates its own color and its own sound. The music of the spheres, my children, is but the celestial sound that is created by all forms in all places. Be then in tune by being in harmony in your own universe.

I have said long ago that I have come to dedicate not to dictate; and I shall ever try to remain the servant because those who ever seek to be in front destroy themselves in the illusion of their creation. He who serves is served by the greatest servant of all. My children, God is not a master. God, the Infinite Intelligence, the Divine Love, is the servant.

Good night.
